A view of the website
and features

Here we have the home page, it utilizes warm colors and simple UI in order to welcome users and visitors in. It is equipped with a chat box that is permanently fixated on the bottom right corner at any time for quick access. And on the top bar you can use click on some options like and “About” section to learn more about the company, a “Contact” section to get in touch with us or apply for work as a service provider, the main “Hire” section where you can search through many service providers that can help you get your work done. And lastly there is a Log In/Sign Up section. Plus links for our Instagram and Facebook page.

The Profile

In this section firstly you will be prompted to create a profile. You can do that by using your Google Account or Facebook Account, or creating a profile with your email address from scratch.

You will then be able to hire "Providers". You will also have some options like checking or updating your account information. You can also look at your address and change it if needed. Take a look at your wallet and you could update your payment info. Lastly you can take a look at ongoing orders. If you don't have any orders, you will be given a link that will take you to the "Hire" page immediately.

Challenges with building the Web-Site.

At first the Web-Site was meant to be build using “ReactJS” for the front-end. “Node-JS” for the back-end, and “PostgreSQL” for the database. After discovering later on in the development of the project that we could use “WordPress” and “Wix” for our Web-Site, after some thought, I decided to make the swap because of the ease of use and considering that I was working alone this helped my work move faster and without problems. Then the only challenge was making the Web-Site as friendly as possible. I went with the warm color pallet and simple and friendly UI to get people in, and chose images matching that color pallet with working individuals to make the visitor interested and comfortable with the service . After that it was just providing a smooth and simple experience for the costumer base without many steps on the hiring and user processes. To make the site seamless and welcoming.
